

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

IINO KAIUN KAISHA, LTD. (security code: 9119)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A-
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) IINO KAIUN KAISHA, LTD. (the "Company") is an oceangoing shipping company primarily operating wide-ranging tankers and dry bulk carriers. Having leading shippers in and outside Japan, the business base is stable. The fleet of its chemical tankers is one of the largest in the world. Moreover, the Company owns multiple office buildings in central Tokyo, the U.S. and the U.K., including flagship Iino Building. It controls volatility in its performance by building a business portfolio on two core businesses: Shipping Business with large fluctuations in earnings and Real Estate Business with stable rent revenue.
- (2) The profit level continues to remain at a higher level compared to that in the past, but uncertainties involved in the business environment are becoming increasingly stronger. The Company's mainstay of the chemical tanker has been performing well and the freight rates are still remaining at high levels. On the other hand, caution is required that the flow of product tankers into the chemical tanker market has started to increase, and also the impact of economic downturn in China on cargo movements. That said, it is unlikely that the business performance will significantly deteriorate given that the supply of newly built chemical tankers is limited and also the earning base has been strengthened through capturing new transportation needs. On the financial front, profits are being accumulated and the favorable financial standing is expected to be maintained into the future. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the rating on the Company with a Stable outlook.
- (3) Ordinary income for the fiscal year ended March 2025 (FY2024) is forecast at 16.9 billion yen, down 22.5% over the year. Profits will decrease with a main reason of softening of freight rates of large gas carriers, but a higher profit level compared to the levels before FY2021 is expected to be secured. For FY2025 and onward, while freight rates of chemical tankers may settle down, but JCR views that the Company can secure a certain profit level supported also by medium- to long-term contracts of large gas carriers, etc. and stable profit of the real estate business.
- (4) Financial structure has improved as shown by equity ratio of 47.1% and DER of 0.8x as at the end of the third quarter of FY2024, respectively improved from 45.0% and 0.9x as at the end of the previous fiscal year. The amount of equity capital has increased and the Company also reduced interest-bearing debt. Although it is more actively investing in vessels, the favorable financial structure will probably be maintained into the future given the prudent financial management policy, cash flow generation capacity and others.

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7
