

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

NS UNITED KAIUN KAISHA, LTD. (security code: 9110)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A-
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) NS UNITED KAIUN KAISHA, LTD (the "Company") is an international marine transportation company mainly operating dry bulk carriers. Its fleet size is the fourth largest in Japan after three major companies. Established in October 2010 through the merger of former Shinwa Kaiun Kaisha, Ltd. and former Nippon Steel Shipping Co., Ltd., the Company is now an equity-method affiliate of NIPPON STEEL CORPORATION (33.44% voting rights as of March 31, 2023) and Nippon Yusen Kabushiki Kaisha (18.59% voting rights). Approximately 45% of net sales are from the Nippon Steel Group (the "Group"), and the Company has many transactions with large energy companies, resource majors and others. Given its highly independent management as a listed company, the stand-alone evaluation is applied to its rating.
- (2) Profits have peaked but are still likely to remain above the level before the fiscal year ended March 2021 (FY2020). Market conditions for dry bulk carriers have been sluggish due to the elimination of demurrage, weak demand in China, etc., thus requiring attention. Yet, as the earnings structure has become stronger with an increase in medium-to-long-term contracts, successful structural reforms implemented in the past and so forth, the Company will probably be able to secure certain profits for a while longer. Financial standing is favorable and is expected to remain so into the future. That said, given that an increase in environment-related investments, including the shift to next-generation fuel-powered vessels, is anticipated, JCR will keep an eye on balance between such spending and financial soundness. Based on the above, JCR affirmed the rating on the Company with Stable outlook.
- (3) Ordinary income is expected to plunge 56.3% over the year to 14.6 billion yen in FY2023, primarily due to the softening dry bulk market. Yet, overall performance will likely be solid in FY2024 and beyond. While the Company will inevitably be affected by market fluctuations, it is increasing tolerance to market risks by controlling fleet costs and market exposures. It is also enhancing the earnings base by, for instance, expanding businesses for overseas customers.
- (4) Financial indicators are favorable, as indicated by the equity ratio of 50.2% and D/E ratio of 0.7x as of June 30, 2023. Equity capital is also building up steadily, and the financial base is being developed to prepare for future investments, including the introduction of next-generation fuel-powered vessels. Large investments are not anticipated until the mid-2020s, and JCR assumes that the financial structure will be improving for a while.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

Consequently, the credit rating determined on the grounds of such information does not constitute, explicitly or implicitly, any representation or warrant of JCR on the information itself or any consequences of its use in terms of accuracy, relevance, timeliness, wholeness, market value, or usefulness for any specific purposes.

Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.
