

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

Idemitsu Credit Co., Ltd. (security code: -)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A+
Outlook: Stable
CP: J-1

Rationale

- (1) Idemitsu Credit Co., Ltd. (the “Company”) is a credit card company under the Idemitsu Kosan Group (the “Group”) and an equity-method affiliate of Idemitsu Kosan Co., Ltd. and Credit Saison Co., Ltd. It operates the credit card and prepaid card businesses, as well as the finance business for leasing, factoring and so forth. Given the degree of Idemitsu Kosan’s involvement in the Company and the Company’s managerial importance in the Group, JCR has determined the Company’s long-term issuer rating to be at the same level as the Group’s creditworthiness, which is deemed to be equivalent to the rating of A+.
- (2) Idemitsu Kosan is strongly involved in the Company. Holding 50% voting rights in the Company, it sends multiple directors, including the president and & CEO, to the latter, which indicates their strong unity in terms of management decision-making and business administration. The Company is managerially highly important to the Group. It plays a functionally important role in sales promotion by providing payment methods and offering discounts on gasoline charges at Idemitsu Kosan’s service stations (the “Stations”).
- (3) The number of credit card members is roughly 4.4 million, which is a mid-sized membership base in the industry. The flagship apollostation card enjoys a certain level of market position and competitiveness on the strength of discounts on gasoline charges at the Stations. The number of active members is on a rise thanks in part to brand conversion for the Stations. Moreover, card shopping utilization rate is high at over 80% as the card is used daily for refueling. Card shopping transaction volume is increasing at a good pace thanks to the expanding membership base and persistently high gasoline prices. Finance balance is also growing steadily, especially for real estate-secured loans.
- (4) Earnings capacity leaves room for improvement. Operating revenue is on a constant rise, but the profit level stays at a lower level than before mainly due to sales promotion expenses and expenses associated with discounts on gasoline charges. Profitability measured by ROA and overhead ratio can still be improved, and the margin to absorb bad debt-related expenses and financing costs with fundamental profits to a certain extent is also somewhat low. JCR will closely watch whether the Company can increase earnings capacity by controlling sales promotion and other expenses while improving the profitability of the credit card and finance businesses.
- (5) Asset quality is good. Operating assets consist mainly of credit card receivables, which are well-diversified into small amounts. The credit management policy is conservative, and credit risk is kept low. The ratio of delinquent loans and write-offs remains at a decent level. With respect to the refund of overcharged interest payments, risk is low, and sufficient allowance is provided.
- (6) Capital adequacy is good. Equity ratio adjusted by JCR remains high. Risks held are small, and capital adequacy is sufficient against risks. There is not much concern about liquidity. The Company has stable relations with financial institutions and also utilizes CP and receivable securitization. It can also expect support from the two shareholders as needed.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

Consequently, the credit rating determined on the grounds of such information does not constitute, explicitly or implicitly, any representation or warrant of JCR on the information itself or any consequences of its use in terms of accuracy, relevance, timeliness, wholeness, market value, or usefulness for any specific purposes.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

The credit rating herewith presented could be changed if and when the assumptions made at the time of its determination turn out to be inaccurate with regard to the issuer's financial grounds and asset quality.
