

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

Nippon Hotel & Residential Investment Corporation (security code: 3472)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A-
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) Nippon Hotel & Residential Investment Corporation (the "Corporation") is a hybrid J-REIT investing in hotels and rental housing. It is sponsored by APA Group that operates hotels under APA Hotel brand. Following a change in the sponsor, the Corporation changed its trade name from Ooedo Onsen Reit Investment Corporation to the current one in February 2024. It aims at constant and steady growth in unitholder value by leveraging the sponsor support in property supply, warehousing functions, financing, etc. from APA Group while dispersing risks associated with asset classes and tenants.
- (2) Currently, the asset size is 31 properties and 68.9 billion yen in total acquisition price. The initiatives to increase stability by diversifying the portfolio through property replacement and expansion of the asset size to reduce concentration to Ooedo Onsen facilities are making steady progress. As for operations of hotels and others, the Corporation has indicated good performance with the success of the value-up constructions of Ooedo Onsen facilities in addition to strong lodging demand at home and abroad. As for rental housing, leveraging the areas where there is strong rental demand, primarily in Tokyo metropolitan area, it has also realized rent increases while maintaining a high average occupancy rate of around 97%. It is conducting stable financial management by and large as indicated by the sponsor support for fundraising and increasing the number of financial institutions with banking relationships. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the A- rating on the Corporation with Stable outlook.
- (3) For external growth, setting a medium-term target of 200 billion yen in asset size, the Corporation has indicated the policy to combine Business Hotels/City Hotels and rental housing in a well-balanced manner to build up assets in the amount of around 20 billion yen annually. For the last one year, it newly acquired 10 properties such as APA Hotels and rental housing leveraging the funds raised through disposing of two properties of Ooedo Onsen facilities, capital increases and additional borrowings. The Corporation has established the hybrid portfolio with a focus on greater stability as shown by the composition ratio of the portfolio, respectively account for 27.3%, 42.4% and 30.3% by Business Hotels/City Hotels (including APA Hotels), Ooedo Onsen facilities and accommodation facilities (rental housing). In the series of initiatives, use of sponsor support in supplying properties and warehousing can be observed. JCR regards this as APA Group's strong commitment to the Corporation.
- (4) On the financial front, after the above-mentioned capital increases and additional borrowings, the total asset-based LTV and appraisal-based LTV (interest-bearing debt / (total assets + unrealized gains/losses)) somewhat increased to approximately 48% and approximately 42% respectively, but they are within the range of leverage control under normal circumstances (appraisal-based) of around 45%. In order to hold down financing cost, the Corporation mainly procures funds on the basis of short-term and floating rate, but it has increased lenders to 18 banks, primarily sponsor's main bank, and the spreads on interest rate of borrowings have also improved. With respect to debt guarantee by the sponsor, in response to the fact that an improvement in the portfolio made certain progress, the sponsor is not expected to provide debt guarantees for future borrowings. JCR does not see that it will have any concern over cash management for the foreseeable future.

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and market environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Portfolios

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's portfolios - how they can be maintained/ enhanced into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a J-REIT might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions) including certainty of refinancing.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as sponsor, asset manager, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Portfolios

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of quality, competitive strength and diversification in the issuer's portfolios, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its investment strategies, tenants' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the portfolios is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its portfolios, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets, of e.g. real estate or interest rates, inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.
