

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

NEC Capital Solutions Limited (security code: 8793)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating:	A
Outlook:	Stable
Bonds:	A
Shelf Registration:	Preliminary A
CP:	J-1

Rationale

- (1) NEC Capital Solutions Limited (the “Company”) is a financial services company with strengths in leasing to government agencies, among others. Previously, the Company was an equity method affiliate of NEC Corporation (“NEC”) and Sumitomo Mitsui Finance and Leasing Company, Limited. However, in October 2024, SBI Shinsei Bank, Ltd. (the “Bank”) acquired part of its shares from both companies and made it an equity method affiliate of the Bank. The Bank also increased its shareholding in June 2025, bringing the investment ratio to 43.48%. There is no change in the Company’s cooperative relationship with NEC even after the change of major shareholders. The rating reflects the Company’s standalone creditworthiness, evaluating its solid business base supported by its relationship with the NEC Group, relatively favorable asset quality and capital adequacy, and a stable funding base. In addition, it is factored in that going forward, the strengthening of the revenue base is expected through synergies with the SBI Shinsei Bank Group, which has a different customer base.
- (2) Earnings capacity is commensurate with the A rating category. In the fiscal year ended March 2025 (FY2024), ordinary profit decreased by 20% year on year, due to temporary increases in funding cost associated with changes in major shareholders, increased system development costs, and a timing shift in recording gains from the sale of a large project. However, by refraining from handling low-margin projects and proceeding with the replacement with highly profitable assets such as structured finance, and with the rental residence / healthcare warehousing business and the solar power selling business steadily expanding, fundamental earnings capacity tends to be improving. In the future, initiatives related to GIGA School Program are expected. Additionally, by leveraging the project sourcing capabilities of the SBI Shinsei Bank Group, efforts to enhance the investment and financing businesses in real estate, M&A, domestic and international infrastructure, healthcare, and renewable energy will accelerate, leading to improved earning capacity. JCR will closely watch the outcomes of the initiatives.
- (3) The quality of assets is relatively good. The credit counterparties mainly consist of highly creditworthy entities such as local governments and NEC-related companies, and borrowers with relatively lower creditworthiness are diversified by small lots. Hence credit costs will remain at a level that can be adequately absorbed by period earning going forward. Since it is assumed that the weight of real estate finance and structured finance will increase, JCR will continue to follow up on its investment policies and management status.
- (4) The capital adequacy corresponds to the A rating category. The consolidated equity ratio has been around 10% since the end of FY2021. While the balance of operating assets has increased in the investment business and others, the accumulation of retained earnings has also progressed, and the current level will likely be maintained going forward. There are no concerns about liquidity. Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation, which has been a core transactional financial institution for some time, and the Bank, a major shareholder, are both positioned as joint main banks, and a stable procurement base has been established with numerous financial institutions. The sources of fundraising are also diverse, such as utilizing CP and corporate bonds.

- Please see the news release. If the credit rating is a private rating, please see the report for private rating.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

Consequently, the credit rating determined on the grounds of such information does not constitute, explicitly or implicitly, any representation or warrant of JCR on the information itself or any consequences of its use in terms of accuracy, relevance, timeliness, wholeness, market value, or usefulness for any specific purposes.

11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Business Bases

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of the issuer's business bases, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its business management policies, clients' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the business bases is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's parent company or subsidiary, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its business bases, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's major shareholders, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.
