Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

Premium Water Holdings, Inc. (security code: 2588)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating:	BBB+
Outlook:	Stable
Bonds:	BBB+
Shelf Registration:	Preliminary BBB+

Rationale

(1) Premium Water Holdings, Inc. (the “Company”) is the holding company of a group engaged in the manufacture and sale of natural water. Since the group shows strong management integration, the ratings reflect the creditworthiness of the entire group. The group has eight water sources and is able to provide a stable supply of high-quality water. To enhance its sales capabilities, the Company is investing in major distributors and strengthening its alliances. In addition, it collaborates with various companies, such as The Kansai Electric Power Company, Incorporated and Japan Airlines Co., Ltd., to offer services like home water delivery. With HIKARI TSUSHIN, INC. (HIKARI TSUSHIN) holding 70.1% of the Company's voting rights, including 40.5% indirectly held interests, as of the end of the fiscal year ended March 2026 (FY2025), the Company is a subsidiary of HIKARI TSUSHIN.

(2) Its performance has been strong. The number of customers is growing steadily due to the acquisition of new customers and the containment of the churn rate, and the Company maintains its top position in the industry. Going forward, the earning capacity seems to be strengthened through the expansion of the customer base and the reduction of manufacturing costs. There is room for improvement in the financial structure. Although an increase in the strain of debt is expected due to the growth in the number of customers, the Company is likely to be able to improve the financial structure over the medium term through higher cash flow generation capacity and profit accumulation. Taking all of the above into consideration, JCR has affirmed the ratings on the Company with Stable outlook.

(3) Operating profit for FY2026 is projected at 13.5 billion yen (up 6.7% year on year), setting a new record high. This is backed by an increase in the number of customers and the containment of costs by maintaining high operating rates at its own factories. The number of customers at the end of September 2026 was 1.86 million (1.82 million at the end of March 2026), showing steady growth. In addition, the use of highly convenient, high-performance water dispensers and the acquisition of long-term contract plans are helping with churn prevention. To further improve earning capacity, JCR sees that it is important to achieve a balance between acquiring new customers and improving the retention rate of existing customers, while containing manufacturing and logistics costs.

(4) At the end of the second quarter of FY2026, the ratio of equity attributable to owners of the parent was 25.5% (23.7% at the end of FY2025), showing an improving trend. While interest-bearing debt, including lease liabilities, is on an upward trend, equity attributable to the parent is also increasing with profit accumulation. Going forward, capital investment, including the acquisition of water dispensers for rental to customers, is expected to continue. To further expand the business, JCR believes that it is necessary to continue working on improving the financial structure.

・ Please see the news release. If the credit rating is a private rating, please see the report for private rating.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

・ The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.

・ The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

Consequently, the credit rating determined on the grounds of such information does not constitute, explicitly or implicitly, any representation or warrant of JCR on the information itself or any consequences of its use in terms of accuracy, relevance, timeliness, wholeness, market value, or usefulness for any specific purposes.

11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Business Bases

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of the issuer's business bases, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its business management policies, clients' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the business bases is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's parent company or subsidiary, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its business bases, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's major shareholders, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.
