

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

NIPPON STEEL KOWA REAL ESTATE Private REIT, Inc. (security code: -)

<Outlook Change>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A
Outlook: from Stable to Positive

Rationale

- (1) NIPPON STEEL KOWA REAL ESTATE Private REIT, Inc. (the "Corporation") is an unlisted, open-ended investment corporation that was established in April 2023 and began operating in August of the same year. It primarily invests in logistics real estate, mainly in the Kanto and Kansai regions. Its assets are managed by NIPPON STEEL KOWA REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT ADVISORS CO., LTD., which is wholly owned by NIPPON STEEL KOWA REAL ESTATE CO., LTD. (the "Sponsor"). The Sponsor as a general developer defines as the third pillar of its core businesses the logistics facilities business leveraging the development of land owned by its major shareholder Nippon Steel Corporation and thus enjoys a certain level of advantage in land acquisition. The Corporation is aiming to secure stable earnings over the medium to long term and achieve sustainable growth by taking full advantage of the Sponsor's extensive development and operational track records, sponsor support agreements and other resources.
- (2) The current portfolio consists of ten properties with a total acquisition price of 83.6 billion yen. The Corporation has been expanding its asset base by continuing property acquisition partly through capital increases. The pipeline is steadily building up, centering on the properties developed by the Sponsor, and further expansion and diversification of the portfolio can be expected through future acquisitions. As regards leasing operations, the track record is solid, backed by an extensive support system from the Sponsor. Moreover, sound financial management is continued, including stable leverage control. Based on the above, JCR, while affirming the rating on the Corporation, changed the outlook to Positive. JCR will keep an eye on trends in external and internal growth, changes in financial management, etc. to be reflected in the rating.
- (3) The occupancy rate of the entire portfolio has been maintained at 100% ever since the launch. Medium- to long-term lease agreements help constrain the risk of a sharp decline in the occupancy rate of the entire portfolio. JCR assumes that the Sponsor's development capabilities, extensive experience/know-how and wide-ranging information network will keep supporting the Corporation's constant growth and stable business operations into the future. Ongoing attention will be paid to progress in the diversification of the portfolio and tenants through external growth and trends in the initiatives for internal growth aimed at increasing resilience against inflation and interest rate hikes.
- (4) Financial soundness is ensured, as indicated by total asset-based LTV being steadily controlled at a level in the lower 40% range. Moreover, the Corporation reduces the risk of a sharp rise in LTV by limiting the number of investment units to be refunded in one fiscal period, in principle, to a certain percentage of the total number of investment units issued and outstanding. In debt financing, it continues financing with consideration given to staggering due dates by adjusting borrowing periods while closely monitoring interest rate trends. Overall, even though there are no particular concerns about current financial management, JCR will pay close attention to trends in LTV control for loans taken out in connection with future property acquisitions.

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and market environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Portfolios

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's portfolios - how they can be maintained/ enhanced into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a J-REIT might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions) including certainty of refinancing.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as sponsor, asset manager, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.

11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Portfolios

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of quality, competitive strength and diversification in the issuer's portfolios, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its investment strategies, tenants' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the portfolios is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its portfolios, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets, of e.g. real estate or interest rates, inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.
