

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

Invincible Investment Corporation (security code: 8963)

<Rating Change>

Long-term Issuer Rating: from A+ to AA-
Outlook: from Positive to Stable
Bonds: from A+ to AA-

Rationale

- (1) Invincible Investment Corporation (“INV”) is a diversified J-REIT sponsored by an affiliate of Fortress Investment Group LLC. INV invests primarily in hotels and residential properties. Its asset manager is Consonant Investment Management Co., Ltd. The current portfolio consists of 156 properties: 114 hotels, including the preferred equity securities of Sheraton Grand Tokyo Bay Hotel (“Sheraton”); 41 residential properties; and 1 other property, for a total acquisition price of 684.1 billion yen. By use (based on acquisition cost): hotel 94.0%, residential 5.6%, and other 0.3%.
- (2) The operating environment for hotels remains favorable, on the back of growth in inbound tourism demand and steady domestic demand. INV’s leasing business operations have also shown a solid track record amid the expansion of the hotel market. In August 2025, it acquired 10 domestic hotels, mainly resort-type properties in regional areas, from the sponsor group for a total of 34.2 billion yen, further increasing asset size and advancing diversification by hotel type and area. The sponsor group has continued to provide a steady supply of properties, and JCR sees that, through external growth and the collaborative structure with its main operator Iconia Hospitality K.K. (“ICN”), the portfolio’s earning capacity and stability have been improving. Also, on the financial side, leverage based on appraised value is maintained within a normal range. Based on the above, JCR has upgraded the ratings on INV by one notch and changed the outlook to Stable.
- (3) In the fiscal period ended December 2025, both operating revenue and net income increased year on year, and earnings expansion has continued. The domestic hotels held, particularly those operated by ICN, have seen year-on-year increases in key operating indicators such as ADR, RevPAR and GOP, driving operational performance favorably. Regarding external growth, property acquisition utilizing sponsor pipeline will likely continue to be the main focus. The sponsor group owns numerous hotels across Japan operated by ICN, and attention remains on the continued progress of portfolio management leveraging these assets. For internal growth, JCR also views the continued execution of strategic CAPEX to sustain or improve the hotels’ competitiveness, including measures to address property aging, as a crucial point. While keeping in mind medium- to long-term changes in supply-demand conditions related to hotel operations, JCR will continuously follow INV’s efforts to maintain and strengthen portfolio cash flows.
- (4) The book-value LTV based on total assets (excluding Sheraton-related debt) had shown a gradual downward trend since the fiscal period ended June 2020 at 51.0%, but has recently risen slightly and stood at 49.2% at the end of December 2025. Meanwhile, the LTV based on appraisal values has been maintained at around 42%. The portfolio’s unrealized gains serving as a financial buffer amounted to 201.3 billion yen (unrealized gain ratio: 32.0%) at the end of December 2025. In terms of fund procurement, a lender composition centered on megabanks and others has been maintained, and diversification of funding methods has been pursued, such as issuing investment corporation bonds. Also, efforts to maintain and improve financial soundness and stability have continued, including controlling borrowing terms and the fixed-rate ratio in light of recent interest rate rises, and staggered maturity dates.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and market environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Portfolios

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's portfolios - how they can be maintained/ enhanced into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a J-REIT might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions) including certainty of refinancing.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as sponsor, asset manager, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Portfolios

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of quality, competitive strength and diversification in the issuer's portfolios, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its investment strategies, tenants' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the portfolios is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its portfolios, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets, of e.g. real estate or interest rates, inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.
