

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

SANKEI REAL ESTATE Inc. (security code: 2972)

<Assignment>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A+

Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) SANKEI REAL ESTATE Inc. (the "Corporation") is a J-REIT established in November 2018 and listed on the Tokyo Stock Exchange in March 2019. Its assets are managed by Sankei Building Asset Management Co., Ltd., which is wholly owned by THE SANKEI BUILDING CO., LTD. The Corporation initially was a REIT focused on investing in office buildings located in city centers but in October 2023 converted to a diversified REIT with an aim to build a portfolio capable of sustainable growth in light of factors like foreseeable structural changes in office demand. The Sankei Building Group (the "Sponsor Group") as a diversified real estate developer provides wide-ranging sponsor support in the forms of property information, warehousing functions, property/building management, personnel support, etc.
- (2) The portfolio now consists of 17 properties acquired since the listing, partly through two public offerings, and the total acquisition price comes to 96.4 billion yen. The Corporation has since March 2023 been pressing ahead with portfolio rebalancing. It has sold two office buildings for 34.7 billion yen in total in anticipation of the materialization of the risk of revenue loss and a future increase in maintenance expenses while acquiring four hotels, two office buildings (additional equity) and one logistics facility for 33.8 billion yen in total. By doing so, it intended to alleviate and resolve the aforementioned concerns and also to improve average occupancy rate and reduce the average age of building. As of April 15, 2024, occupancy rate was 96.6%, and the average age of buildings was 15.8 years. Given such a track record as well as other factors including the Corporation's close collaborative relations with the Sponsor Group that has a wealth of experience and know-how, ranging from real estate development to operation and management, and financial conditions such as the status of financing, JCR assigned an A+ rating to the Corporation with Stable outlook.
- (3) As a result of portfolio rebalancing, the ratio of investment in office buildings, which had previously been topping 80% since the fiscal period ended February 2020, was lowered to around 60%, leading to greater diversification in terms of asset type. The Sponsor Group is engaging in real estate investment and development in broad fields, incorporating multiple branding strategies, and the asset recycling business model that uses these as a pipeline and the utilization of the Group's platform are the strengths of the Corporation. Looking ahead, JCR will be closely watching the efforts aimed at improving portfolio quality through further external growth and constant rebalancing.
- (4) Total asset-based LTV, which has been controlled more or less within the target range of 40 to 50%, stood at 47.9% as of the end of February 2024. In terms of debt financing, the Corporation maintains good relations with a total of eleven banks, centering on main banks, and continues to give due consideration to extending borrowing periods, fixing interest rates, staggering repayment dates, etc. while closely monitoring interest rate trends. Overall, there are no particular concerns about current financial management, but in any case attention will be paid to, among others, the improvement of the portfolio's unrealized gain (3.6 billion yen as of the end of February 2024), which had decreased due to a series of rebalancing efforts; the extension of the average remaining borrowing period (2.4 years as of March 12, 2024); and further diversification of financing sources.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and market environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Portfolios

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's portfolios - how they can be maintained/ enhanced into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a J-REIT might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions) including certainty of refinancing.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as sponsor, asset manager, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. - The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Portfolios

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of quality, competitive strength and diversification in the issuer's portfolios, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its investment strategies, tenants' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the portfolios is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its portfolios, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets, of e.g. real estate or interest rates, inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.
