

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

ICHINEN HOLDINGS CO., LTD. (security code: 9619)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A-
Outlook: Stable
Bonds: A-
CP: J-1

Rationale

- (1) ICHINEN HOLDINGS CO., LTD. (the “Company”) is the pure holding company of the ICHINEN Group (the “Group”). It operates, alongside the core automotive leasing business, wide-ranging businesses including chemicals, parking, machine tools sales and synthetic resins, as well as agribusiness. While maintaining the stable business base and high profitability in the core automotive leasing business, it is strengthening earnings capacity in other businesses with the diversification of earnings sources. Despite aggressive investments, its financial position remains sound. Based on the above, JCR deems the Group’s creditworthiness to be equivalent to a rating of A-. Given the Group’s strong unity, the Company’s long-term rating is at the same level as the Group’s creditworthiness.
- (2) Earnings capacity is improving steadily. Consolidated operating profit grew 13.6% over the year to 10.2 billion yen in the fiscal year ended March 2025 (FY2024), reaching a new high for 22 years straight. In the automotive leasing business, which accounts for a majority of consolidated operating profit, the number of units under lease contracts increased, so did gains on sale of off-lease vehicles thanks to favorable used car market conditions, which along with other factors steadily supported the Group’s performance. Moreover, full-year contribution from NITTO FC CO., LTD., which was acquired in 2023, helped push up consolidated operating profit. As such, the Company has made progress in the diversification of businesses and earnings sources through M&As. For FY2025, factors like a rise in maintenance costs and interest expenses in the automotive leasing business are expected to weigh on performance. Meanwhile, whether the Company can keep improving consolidated operating profit with growth in other business segments, including synergy creation with the companies that have recently joined the Group, will be watched.
- (3) The quality of operating assets is good, and credit costs are held down. The Company’s operations are susceptible to economic downturns because a large number of transactions are made with SMEs, but, as far as the automotive leasing business is concerned, credit costs are not likely to increase drastically even in the event of a credit accident due to the liquidity of leased vehicles and so forth.
- (4) Financial foundation is becoming stronger. Consolidated equity ratio as of the end of FY2024 was 31.5%, as opposed to 29.8% a year before, and equity capital has increased with steady profit accumulation. Given the management policy to expand M&As and the overseas business, the Company will likely continue aggressive investments. Yet, as it maintains the prudent financial management policy, JCR assumes that financial soundness will remain at the current level.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Business Bases

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of the issuer's business bases, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its business management policies, clients' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the business bases is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's parent company or subsidiary, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its business bases, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's major shareholders, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.
